

To: Way, Steven[way.steven@epa.gov]
From: Matt Francis
Sent: Sat 10/11/2014 4:02:55 PM
Subject: RE: Red n Bonita / Gold King - pipe needs

Todd will cry about it showing up, but he can build another rack and put it outside. I'll take the heat for it.

-----Original Message-----

From: Way, Steven mailto:[way.steven@epa.gov]
Sent: Saturday, October 11, 2014 10:03 AM
To: Matt Francis
Subject: Re: Red n Bonita / Gold King - pipe needs

Good. I had not heard that answer.

Sent from my iPhone

> On Oct 11, 2014, at 10:00 AM, "Matt Francis" <m.francis@erllc.com> wrote:
>
> I'd say bring back whatever can be fit on your demob trucks. It will get used somewhere and we can store it at Denver shop.
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Way, Steven mailto:[way.steven@epa.gov]
> Sent: Saturday, October 11, 2014 9:58 AM
> To: Matt Francis
> Cc: Byron Hartman
> Subject: Red n Bonita / Gold King - pipe needs
>
> Matt, give some thought as to how much 12"/dbl walled pipe we could use next yr. we plan to trailer it back now. My first thought is buried on top of the dump at GK to convey adit flow during portal work. Not sure about R n B application.
>
> Currently I have told them to bring 300 ft of the 700 ft available. That could go to Silverton while you are there if part the Denver crew leaves Tuesday from MT. Otherwise can ER store it in Denver?
>
> If Evan needs some also for the job above Boulder, the crew can bring more than 300 ft back.
>
> Let me know.
> Steve
>
> Sent from my iPhone